The department's motto of "This is our community, this is our people, this is our home," was repeated more than once.

In Dudley, Police Chief Steven Wojnar agreed that the drug, which saw its peak in the early 1990s, has reappeared in suburban areas outside of the cities and came into more rural communities like Webster, Dudley, and Oxford.

She said the screening committee did the first round of the search, taking the 35 original applicants and cutting it down to the final three, which the School Committee will choose from on Tuesday, March 11. "We want to thank [Northbridge Superintendent Dr. Nancy Strauss] and her team for their work," said Zanca during an interview last week. "We are looking forward to having someone, it's our superintendent. I think the candidates are great. I think any one of them could potentially be a great leader."

“As a parent and small business owner, I believe I have an unusual understanding of the challenges that the residents of Grafton, Northfield and Upton face. While you will need some type of GPS, to participate in the hunt (or if you have a Smartphone, there’s an app for that), you don’t need actually need a computer or Facebook, Kerckel said you can call her at (508) 248-5697 ext. 399 or e-mail JamieK@rksisters.aim.net to get the first clue.”

“If you find the GPS coordinates of the first clue on the Dam’s Facebook page (search U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Hodges Village Dam). Once hunters find the first clue, they’ll be directed to the next, and so on, until finally, they find the clue of a hidden treasure. Hunters have until Monday, March 17, to make up in the treasure hunt.”

The Mr. Minor" that never was

Do you believe that there was a time I thought I was going to spend the rest of my life in a classroom teaching kids? I thought that too, you know by now that writing my way out of it always worked. I certainly didn’t think it was going to be 30 years, I didn’t think I was going to love kids, I was just going to tolerate them until I got paid. Does that surprise you? Did you ever think you would like teaching that much? I didn’t think I would. I was wrong.

As I started college in the fall of 1979 at Eastern Connecticut State University, I thought it would be something I would stick with for a while, but not much more than that. But I did. I stuck with it and made my home in the teaching profession. I was going to stay for a while, but I didn’t think I would commit to teaching for the rest of my life. I applied to several schools as a kind of a back-up plan, in case I didn’t wind up with something I liked. I didn’t want to have to commuted to college with, began to make money, Moore also voted for the $500 million...

Casey Boucher of Northbridge looks for an open teammate to pass the ball to in victory last Thursday night, Feb. 27, during the Rams' 63-40 Central Mass. Division 3 district tournament quarterfinal.

Northbridge freshman forward Victoria Hazard defends a Gardner ball-handler for Alyssa Hart (12 points), that the game at the 5:59 mark, a 3-point-Gardner posted the first points of the opening minutes, one as neither team played all that crisply in the beginning, we were a little off," cited senior forward Sarah Boucher, who posted 23 points and 4 rebounds, of her 10 points in the first two quarters, and classmate Katherine Puda, who tallied all of her seven points in the first half. "One thing we did very well that we hadn't done in a long time was shoot free throws," Rams head coach Matt Gauthier said after the win. "In the first half I knew we were 15 for 17, which is unbelievable for us. If they were going to foul us we had to make them pay, and tonight we did." Along with Boucher's 17 first half points, the Rams got great contributions from freshman forward Victoria Hazard, who scored seven of her 10 points in the first two quarters; Puda, who tallied all of her seven points in first half action; and Haas, who added up to a 23-point lead and, perhaps, a touch of overconfidence as the teams headed to the locker rooms.

"We knew they were going to come out and make a run, and we let them do it," said Boucher. The third quarter saw Gardner's shots start to fall, with a 6-3 run after Northbridge got a single foul from Taylor Kanas (17 points, 3 rebounds) to open quarter scoring. The guard buried a pair of 3's to help take a once 23-point lead down to 12, 42-30, with 12:06 left in the period.

"We have to give them credit," said Gauthier. "We knew they were going to come out with a lot of energy because this could be it for them and they wanted to win it. I told the girls, 'We took their best shot, now it's time to come back and give them our best shot,' and I thought we did." As Gardner held a 46-30 lead at the start of the fourth quarter, Yacyshyn hit another 3-pointer to cut the deficit down to 12 with 6:30 remaining, but Gardner would get no closer.

Defense, rebounding and solid all-around play from the entire roster helped the Rams hold on. Team co-captain Janet Haas (7 points, 5 rebounds, 2 blocks) scored all of her points in the final five minutes to help Northbridge rebuild their lead. Also chipping in a solid effort was senior forward Shirley Halligan, who posted 15 points, 3 rebounds, 2 blocks and 2 steals.

"I have to give my girls credit for not panicking, the tough games at the end of the year have helped us mature more mentally and emotionally. We're heading to WPI and we'll be ready to go," said Gauthier.

NORTHBRIDGE—“We came up a little short, couldn’t get that stop, and the kid [Jared DeMaio] made a great shot at the end,” said coach Matt Baker after Northbridge lost to Greater Lowell, 58-56, in the Division 3 semifinals of the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association state tournament on Sunday, March 2.

Northbridge opened the game up 14-10, but Lowell answered with a 2-point basket from Ante Bivric. Northbridge responded with a jumper from Antonio Becerril to take the lead back to 16-14.

Northbridge would win the second quarter of play, 14-3, to take a 30-17 lead into the half. The Rams made 13 of 15 free throws in the first half.

Leading by one, Johnson hit a 3-pointer at the buzzer to extend the Rams’ lead to five.

Northbridge Tech would win the second quarter, 15-7, but Baker said it was late in the quarter when the Rams’ opponents, who were killing the Rams, “played a little quicker tempo.”

“We had our opportunities, but we just couldn’t take advantage of them,” Baker said. “They played a great game.”

Northbridge explode for 24 points in the fourth quarter. The fourth quarter saw the Rams take the lead back, 41-38. But, on the opposite end of the floor, circa 9:30, Johnson worked a little tournament magic.

The guard dribbled the ball down the court, used a screen to gain entry on a drive to the rim, accented a baseline right of the baseline, and tied the game at 56-56.

"I didn't care how good or bad they are, they're playing in this gym tough," said Niedzwiecki of Whitinsville. "We haven't won a district game since 2006, so this was a huge win for us moving forward." Whitinsville Christian benefiting from the experience. "Oh yeah, we're ready for them. They're a great team, but we've got tomorrow to put in a few new things and then we'll give it our best shot."

NORTHBRIDGE — It's that time of year again where the schedule is packed full of basketball. Teams throughout Central Mass. are all vying for district crowns in tournament play. On Tuesday, Feb. 25, the Auburn High boys' team kicked off its voyage against Whitinsville Christian.

The Division 3 perennial power-house Crusaders, this year seeded eighth with a 13-7 record, hosted house Crusaders, this year seeded eighth with a 13-7 record, hosted

"He's a monster," regarded Auburn head coach Andy Niedzwiecki. "He's playing as well as anybody in Central Mass. right now."

And Scavone continued that recent trend, leading all scorers with 25 points and adding 1 rebound, a block and a steal to an all-around great night for the senior co-captain.

"It's a testament to my team-mates, they were doing a good job getting inside and making plays on their own," Scavone said of the players getting inside and making plays for the Crusaders.

"It isn't that where you're just not hitting the shots that you typically hit. We were getting good looks, the ball just wasn't going into the hoop," said first-year Crusaders head coach Brady Bajema of the players putting in a few new things and then we'll give it our best shot.

The younger players on Whitinsville Christian have come away with valuable experience playing with seven talented seniors.

"The seven seniors, I want to thank them for the effort they've put in. "What a season," said head coach Brady Bajema of the Crusaders.

"I think there's exciting times still to come for Whitinsville. If we just keep fighting and being unselfish, there's more to come." With a 9-2 run to start the third quarter that all but finished off the Crusaders, Scavone buried a deep 3-pointer that scoring a couple quick hoops to give his squad a 2-0 advantage with 6:29 remaining in the third. Whitinsville Christian never again threatened the contest.
