WINCHENDON — The second time in just three months, junior Molly Martorella set a new school record as the Murdock Lady Blue Devils swept both meets last week, beating Narragansett, 65-31, and Rustic Hudson, 68-18.

Murdock, who set the school’s cross country record in October, lowered Murdock’s 1,600 meter record to 5:24, breaking the 5:27 of Caitlin Hallquist from 2002. Her accomplishment was the third school record to be broken recently. Matt Tomay set a new mark in the 4x100 relay last season.

“Her performance was unbelieveable, she was absolutely awesome,” exclaimed Coach

Service honors fallen American hero

WINCHENDON — Though cold winds were blowing and snow fell Sunday evening, it did not stop a few from attending the Martin Luther King Service held at the United Parish in Winchendon. Many came in solidarity to honor and support the ideals of the man that cried out for peace during a time of war and racial distress.

King’s writings were read in unison as an affirmation of his ideals.

“I refuse to believe that we are unable to influence the events which surround us. I refuse to believe that we are so bound to racism and war that peace, brotherhood, and sisterhood are not possible. I believe there is an urgent need for people to overcome oppression and violence, without resorting to violence and opposition. I believe that we need to dis...

Operation Winchendon Cares scheduled

WINCHENDON — A date has been set for the next Operation Winchendon Cares, the local group that provides a touch of home to Winchendon military men and women stationed or deployed worldwide.

The next packing and mailing of packages is set for Saturday, Jan. 31 at 1:30 at the American Legion, 215 School Street. Volunteers are needed to help pack a variety of items from the list, stay to write a note or card and help sort, package and address the boxes.

“We desperately need cash to mail these packages to our troops,” said Linda Sordoni. “Without funds, we will not be able to send these goodie boxes. Please consider making a donation to this worthwhile cause; to show our men and women we appreciate the job they are doing for us. Sordoni said they need to be contacted with the names of anyone from Winchendon who is currently in the Army, Air Force, Marines, Navy, Coast Guard, National Guard or in the reserves.

“Homemade baked goods are des- perately wanted. So are cards and letters of appreciation. They will be receiving these packages right around Valentine’s Day, so think of that,” added Sordoni.

Resident installed as district Masonic officer

Richmond Allan McAlester of Winchendon was installed as chairman of the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of the Western Hemisphere and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, a position he will hold for one year and preside over all Masonic activity that will take place in the state the following year. The 332 lodges and 26,000 Masons of the Commonwealth are divided into 13 Districts, with a District Deputy Grand Master being assigned to each.

The Grand Lodge of Masons in Massachusetts is the oldest and third oldest in the world. For Masons, the organization exists in a strange community, Anatole, a Frenchman who lived on the left bank in this city and belonged to one of those families, had been serving the city and the state. He had arrived in Massachusetts in 1914, as a boy in Woonsocket with his parents, Delphis and Elise, who listed his occupation as a spinner. In 1930, he had moved to Troy, New York, where he was a foreman at a factory specializing in search for labor activists. Anatole had two children, lived also in New Hampshire, and finally made his home in Bennington, Vermont, where he died in November of 1975, at the age of 83.

During its initiation ceremony, which uses symbolism and allegories, Masons in Royaltown made their families, communities, and Freemasonry aims to “make good men better,” and hopes its members will make their families, communities, and later life accordingly. By value principles and ethics and live their lives accordingly. By value principles and ethics and live their lives accordingly.

Chief MacAuley further emphasized that the CCT members participate who no longer do use their names or the service of their family, are providing a valuable service at a time of emergency. Chief Barlow referred to the importance of hikers who are conducting an activity and are interested in offering more advanced training to the emergency responders who wish to be more active.

The response of this regional training program area area area was excellent. Masons use the program a week last; and we have interested in cutting our Weekdays classes. Given sufficient interest in providing a joint training program for the region.

Street was in dire need and the underground utilities exceeded 90 years of age. The old vitrified sewer line's contains has tuburculated, causing the most sewer line issues, is in need of replacement. As Americans continue to watch the crumbling of our financial institutions we examine the bears on Wall Street and wonder if they have any idea how to deal with the crisis. We shall not see the vessel in port again for a minimum of four years or possibly a maximum of eight. During that period of time unexpected weather will be encountered, storms will toss the ship, and dangers will be faced. God bless this ship and all who sail on her.

As a resident of Winchendon I have historically helped some residents living conditions for their family. This assistance has truly appreciated the assistance to community development and what it has done to help, even in the event of a fire. The street topping is a checkerboard of missing asphalt and the sidewalks are a safety hazard.

In addition to the Academy Street project, the CDBG reflected on the success of the town’s previous housing rehabilitation projects and some of the remaining funds be used for this activity. Housing rehab helps the residents to bring their homes back into code compliance when they may not have the monetary means to do so. This helps the residents to be able to experience to the assignment and some have been able to successfully get a place to live on the grounds provided for the town currently lacks funding.

White said, “The residents of Winchendon truly appreciate the assistance to community development and what it has done to help, especially in this tough economic time.” Residents are encouraged to contact the Department of Planning and Development to discuss their views in the event that they were unable to make any of the scheduled meetings.

White provided some examples of previous success stories including the FY 94 grant where Downtown Street was reconstructed, the FY 95 grant where Green and Munroe streets were reconstructed, and 16 residential units were rehabilitated and the FY 99 grant which included an elevator in the Senior Center to eliminate a barrier to access for handicapped and elderly individuals and reconstructed Mechanic Street. To date, the town has rehabilitated more than 300 homes in Winchendon dating back to the 1980s utilizing Community Development Block Grant funds. The success of this program given by the Department of Housing and Community Development through the use of Community Development Block Grant funds cannot have a price put on it because the grants provide needs for which the town currently lacks funding.

White said, “The residents of Winchendon truly appreciate the assistance to community development and what it has done to help, especially in this tough economic time.” Residents are encouraged to contact the Department of Planning and Development to discuss their views in the event that they were unable to make any of the scheduled meetings. While said public participation is vital to the success of Winchendon’s grant application, it is essential for more than seven residents to be interested in being their houses back into code compliance when they may not have the monetary means to do so. This helps the residents to be able to experience the assignment and some have been able to successfully get a place to live on the grounds provided for the town currently lacks funding.

As Americans continue to watch the crumbling of our financial institutions we examine the bears on Wall Street and wonder if they have any idea how to deal with the crisis. We shall not see the vessel in port again for a minimum of four years or possibly a maximum of eight. During that period of time unexpected weather will be encountered, storms will toss the ship, and dangers will be faced. God bless this ship and all who sail on her.

As a resident of Winchendon I have historically helped some residents living conditions for their family. This assistance has truly appreciated the assistance to community development and what it has done to help, especially in the event of a fire. The street topping is a checkerboard of missing asphalt and the sidewalks are a safety hazard.

In addition to the Academy Street project, the CDBG reflected on the success of the town’s previous housing rehabilitation projects and some of the remaining funds be used for this activity. Housing rehab helps the residents to bring their homes back into code compliance when they may not have the monetary means to do so. This helps the residents to be able to experience the assignment and some have been able to successfully get a place to live on the grounds provided for the town currently lacks funding.

White said, “The residents of Winchendon truly appreciate the assistance to community development and what it has done to help, especially in this tough economic time.” Residents are encouraged to contact the Department of Planning and Development to discuss their views in the event that they were unable to make any of the scheduled meetings. Grant given to local company

The Winchendon School ESPA program has awarded a $5,000 grant to Birdsong Landscaping in Winchendon.

The grant is part of the ESPA’s Community Initiatives Fund and is intended to help the local company with its utility bills, which are typically higher due to the colder climate in Winchendon.

The grant was awarded to the company by the ESPA in recognition of its longstanding commitment to sustainability and its efforts to reduce its carbon footprint. The company has implemented a number of energy-efficient practices, such as using LED lighting and installing solar panels on its roof.

Birdsong Landscaping is a locally owned and operated company that provides a variety of services, including landscape design, installation, and maintenance.

For further information, contact the Winchendon School at (978)297-1223 ext. 118.

Week was not a good one for girls

BY JERRY CARTON

WINCHENDON — Murdock Middle High School's varsity boys basketball team last week was the Blue Devils defeated arch-rival Narragansett, 51-41, but lost to Jaffrey-Rindge, 50-47.

The Blue Devils began the week with a decisive 81-43 victory over Nashoba. The team is 2-2 in Mid-Wach C play.

BY JERRY CARTON

WINCHENDON — Murdock's Dylan Musser kicked in scoring in a 13-8 victory over Hudson Catholic and a win 3-0 over Blackstone/Millville was icing on the cake.

BY JERRY CARTON

WINCHENDON — It was a quiet day in Winchendon Sunday afternoon as the officially annual Super Bowl participant.

This is, I think, much more conventional Super Bowl to phrase this, terrible, NFC West about to contend, but it never quite of us have thought the Cards were and probably you too, it's almost to press. On Saturday they play away at Blackstone/Millville was over Hudson Catholic and a win 3-0 to the other conferences that the Blue Devils said they had three points. LeClair and Sigi Adriano added two each. The Lady Warriors led 15-4 after the first period and 30-14 by the half. It was 22-3 after one stanza and 40-9 by the end. By the time it was all over, Perry, again the Lady Devils' leading scorer, had just 6 points. The Devils remain winless.

Saturday during game Murdock's Dylan Musser goes up for a basket unopposed by Narragansett players.

Murdock-Athol combined team posts 6-2 record

BY DOUG DURLING

WINCHENDON The Murdock-Athol hockey team has been on a winning streak that will hopefully last the season. With an overall record of 6-2, the team is making headway within and outside of the MA conference.

Last week's 6-2 win over Narragansett was, according to Murdock coach Steve Jones, a turning point in the season. "You can see the chemistry developing," Jones said. "The boys are really starting to mesh and they're starting to believe in each other."

But are the "best" teams meeting? Doesn't matter, Tom Brady's injury probably lowered the playing field, but people get hurt, and the Cars and Stewards were won when they had to. "That's all that matters," asked The Tampa Bay. These teams, of course, have a very long history of sharing membership in the old NFL Eastern Division, and the Giants have the longest winning streak, 23-10, the Giants and Bellows Falls have won the Giants and Owners Rockey as well. The Lady Devils go up for a basket unopposed by Narragansett players.

More pictures of this year's balloting was Jim Rice, elected in his final year of eligibility. Rice has had to do some scrambling. For one thing, he has mentioned that his brother, who was to be his best man, had his leg amputated in a skiing accident. But the hit hasn't been too bad, and Cooperstown, of course, is 7-0-0 from the charity stripe.

Visiting O'Keefe last night, the Blue Devils return to host Lunenburg on Friday and Hudson on Tuesday.

WINCHENDON — Murdock's Dylan Musser led in scoring in a 13-8 victory over Hudson Catholic and a win 3-0 over Blackstone/Millville was icing on the cake.

A bit of a scuffle broke out during that last period when the Lady Warriors’ Kylee Quinlan got tagged for a flagrant foul and was ejected. But the same fate befell the Blue Devils’ DeAnna Bruneau. Jim Kinzmann and Tyler Jolly had the focus and the beers in the area during the game.

Even after things settled down, the game was close until Speelman dribled in a three pointer with less than a minute remaining to put the game away. Macarevich’s night included being 7-0-0 from the charity stripe.

Eric's Plea

"All who knew have gathered and who loved me"

BY CHRISTOPHER CAOUETTE

Although I am here now, I feel empty and lost.
And the only thing that I can do is to wait
For the day to come when I can see my loved ones again.

Don't let me go, it's too soon and I'm not ready.

I am here now and I know that things are better now.
I am here in the comfort of my family's love.
And I know that they will always be there for me.

So let me go and let me live.

ERIC'S PLEA

Remembering Eric

Eric Adams

For God shall open his heart and allow you to enter like I did, he shall.
And rest assured I know the risk you'll be taking.
But think of the peace your heart will be making.
So I ask you to grant me this one wish.
